

TELLS OF EFFORTS TO SHIELD MORGAN

MELLEN DECLARES HE TOOK INDICT- MENT BELONGING TO FINANCIER

Witness Says That Late J. Pierpont Morgan Was Cognizant of Grand Trunk Negotiations on Which Mellen Was Indicted For Violation of Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A dramatic climax marked the close of the sensational testimony of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven railroad, before the interstate-commerce commission today when with evidence of deep emotion, Mr. Mellen said that late J. Pierpont Morgan was cognizant of the Grand Trunk negotiations on which he (Mellen) was criminally indicted for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and that he (Mellen) "took the indictment that belonged to him" (Morgan), believing it would have killed the aged financier if he had been indicted.

Mr. Mellen spoke with intense feeling as he recited his efforts to shield the elder Morgan. This turned quickly to a show of resentment, however, as he told how the present J. Pierpont Morgan had suggested "change in the presidency of the New Haven," at which suggestion, Mr. Mellen said with emphasis:

"I called his attention to the fact that I had been suffering under the humiliation of an undeserved indictment to protect his father."

"Did you write a letter to the district attorney taking the responsibility?" asked Mr. Folk the government's chief counsel.

"I did, and I did it for the sole purpose of shielding Mr. Morgan."

"At whose instance did you write that letter?"

"At the instance of Lewis Cass Leary and Edward D. Robbins."

"Who dictated it?"

"I dictated a letter which was re-drafted by Mr. Robbins and corrected by Mr. Leary. I signed it in their presence and sent it to the United States district attorney; and I nearly killed everybody in the office to keep Mr. Morgan's name out of it."

"To keep Mr. Morgan's name out of what?"

"Out of the whole proceeding."

"Had Mr. Morgan been subpoenaed in that matter?"

"I have learned through my counsel—I did not know it at the time—that he was subpoenaed and his subpoena was quashed or nolle, whatever your legal term is for that action."

"Did you have any conversation with the present director of the road, J. P. Morgan Jr.?"

"Yes sir, at the time Mr. Morgan called upon me and thought the change in the presidency was desirable I called his attention to the fact that I had been suffering under the humiliation of an undeserved indictment to protect his father. He seemed quite affected; he turned to the window to compose his feelings and returned to the conversation with the remark that his father's condition of health at that time was such that it would undoubtedly have killed him if he had been indicted. That was the condition I understood he was in when I took the responsibility upon myself and took the indictment that belonged to him."

Letter Not Introduced.

The letter which Mr. Mellen said he wrote to the district attorney at New York "for the purpose of shielding Mr. Morgan" was not introduced in evidence and Mr. Folk said afterward it was not in his possession.

The closing scene of the day concluded the four days of grueling interrogation which Mr. Mellen had undergone.

Before the Morgan climax was reached, Mr. Folk had developed the part taken by the various directors of the New Haven in the vast financial operations of the system. Mr. Mellen gave an intimate personal view of several of the members of the New Haven board further emphasizing the dominant power of Mr. Morgan, particularly of Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Baker and Mr. Leary.

He paid personal tributes of admiration to other members of the board. Mr. Mellen also testified as to "hold-ups" in stocks to which he had been subjected as president of the New Haven and said it was due to intimidation that came to him that if legislation was wanted it would be a good idea to trade in stock.

At the conclusion of the hearing today Mr. Mellen left for New York. He has not been excused as a witness, but is subject to recall at any time. He assured Mr. Folk of his readiness to appear whenever he might be wanted. The extent to which Mr. Mellen's testimony may render him immune from prosecution is still an open question. Officials of the department of justice have expressed the view that the testimony would raise the question of immunity but the interstate-commerce commission has proceeded on the ground that the testimony was called for by a resolution of the United States senate without reference to what its effect might be.

ADVOCATES UNIFORMITY OF STATE DIVORCE LAWS

Cairo Presbyterian Delegate Urges Federal Divorce Law as a Solution of the Problem.

Chicago, May 22.—Members of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church after devoting several hours today to the discussion of recommendation for new state laws for the regulation of marriage and divorce, referred the subject back to the committee on Christian life and work for further consideration.

Before the assembly adjourns it is expected that a revised report strongly criticizing the present laxity and suggesting desired legislative reforms will be adopted by the body. Alfred M. Eels of Cairo, Ill., offered a resolution providing for a federal divorce law as a solution of the problem. He said the lack of uniformity in state divorce laws led to confusion and as a result most of the statutes were violated with impunity.

The assembly gave recognition to women by the adoption of an amendment to the church's form of government authorizing the election and ordination of Deaconesses in a similar manner to the selection of deacons, the church sessions to define the duties of the new class of officials.

Under the rule the proposed amendment will be sent to the different presbyteries for approval and will not be effective until the local bodies have voted favorably on the proposition.

"Are the women to teach?" inquired a delegate.

"No, only serve," Chairman John Timothy Stone, who represented the committee report on the subject replied.

The question has been before the general assembly for several years.

Rev. A. Webb of Louisville was appointed vice-moderator and among the standing committee chairmen selected was Rev. Edward E. Hastings of Fort Dodge, Iowa, who heads the education committee.

ROOSEVELT DISCUSSES SITUATION
WITH FLYNN AND GIFFORD PINCHOT

Colonel Talks Over the Part He is to Take in the Pennsylvania Campaign.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 22.—William Flynn of Pittsburgh, Progressive national committeeman who led the bolt of Roosevelt delegates from the Republican national convention in 1912, tonight paid his first visit to Sagamore Hill since Colonel Roosevelt's return from South America. With Mr. Flynn was Gifford Pinchot, Progressive candidate for United States senator from Pennsylvania. With them Colonel Roosevelt went over the political situation in Pennsylvania and discussed the campaign there. It is probable that Colonel Roosevelt will devote several days to a speaking trip throughout the state after his return from his tour across the continent. The testimony in Washington of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, regarding his interview with President Roosevelt concerning the sale of the New Haven's steamship lines to Charles W. Morse of New York caused the colonel to send a telegram to Herbert Knox Smith of Hartford, Conn., who was commissioner of corporations during the Roosevelt administration. In his telegram he asked Mr. Smith to make public a letter which he had sent the colonel in 1912 regarding this matter, with which, as commissioner of corporations, he supervised.

This letter, the colonel said, explained every phase of the matter.

Colonel Roosevelt said that the Mellen interview was probably one of a dozen and he could not recall the details.

IOWA HOTEL MAN KNOCKED SENSELESS BY MASKED BURGLAR

J. H. Dunlevy of Fairfield is Badly Hurt by a Robber After Overpowering His Companion.

Fairfield, Iowa, May 22.—After disarming and overpowering a masked burglar who tried to rob him, J. B. Dunlevy, proprietor of a hotel, was knocked senseless by a piece of gas pipe in the hands of a companion of the burglar early today. Dunlevy's condition is precarious. He was sleeping in the office of the hotel on a cot when aroused by the presence of the armed burglar with whom he grappled.

Suspect Arrested.

Ottumwa, Iowa, May 22.—Bloodhounds from Agency were called to Fairfield today to search for assailants of J. B. Dunlevy, a hotel keeper, who was attacked by robbers. The dogs followed the scent from the hotel to a Rock Island box car where a suit case was found. One dog took the trail to the Rock Island depot, where the suspects are believed to have gone following the attempted holdup. The other animal trailed a man to the quarry in box car. The suspect is being held until Dunlevy's condition will permit an attempt at identification.

CHARGES WRONGS AGAINST INSURED

ANNUAL REPORT OF INSURANCE SUPT. POTTS IS MADE PUBLIC

Recommends an Immediate Reduction in Fire Insurance Rates, a Re-classification of Risks and a General Shake-Up and Reform Among the Insurance Organizations in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 22.—The report of Rufus M. Potts, state insurance superintendent covering his recent investigation of fire insurance conditions in Illinois, was made public today. Mr. Potts recommends an immediate reduction in fire insurance rates, a re-classification of risks, holding control over the operations of this business must either reform their organization and methods of doing business or the department will proceed against them.

Mr. Potts further says that the Chicago board of underwriters has assumed complete jurisdiction over the stock fire insurance business in Cook county establishing tariffs, publishing rates and restricting agents' commissions.

The Western Union Board of Underwriters exercises like control over the state of Illinois outside of Cook county according to the commissioner who declares that until these organizations shall upon notice from his department reform their organizations, constitutions by laws, rules and regulations that it is his duty to proceed against them. He states that in his opinion the organizations are a clear combination preventing competition and in restraint of trade. The report says:

"Illinois rates are much higher than those of adjacent states, and according to tables covering experience for the last thirty three years, the loss ratio has been lower than that of any state except Wisconsin, which is practically the same. The annual amount of premium in Illinois is reported as almost equal to the combined premium of the states of Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky and Texas, where rate reductions have been made. An immediate reduction of premium rates now charged is demanded, aggregating the following totals:

Cook County.
Dwellings ..... $650,000
Dean Schedule Risks ..... $750,000
Sprinklered Risks ..... $ 50,000

Total ..... $1,450,000

Illinois Out of Cook County.
Dwellings ..... $350,000
Dean Schedule Risks ..... 600,000

Totals ..... $950,000

Thus the total amount of immediate reduction in premiums recommended from the entire state is $2,400,000.

According to Mr. Potts the persistent refusal of the stock fire companies and organization to voluntarily grant concession to the insuring public is indefensible.

The substance of the report demands that the entire state shall be re-rated, and that all discriminations against the small insurer shall be eliminated.

OPPOSE PROPOSED PLAN FOR WABASH RE-ORGANIZATION

Attorney General Barker Will Oppose Plan Unless Shippers Are Protected.—Charges and Counter-charges Made.

St. Louis, May 22.—Charges that J. Aspinwall Hodge, the attorney who appeared before the Missouri public service commission to oppose the re-organization plan of the Wabash railroad, represented certain interests that were trying to get money from the Wabash management and counter charges that Geo. J. Gould deliberately forced the Wabash into receivership were made at the resumption of the hearing here today. Attorney General John T. Barker will oppose the proposed plan for the re-organization of the Wabash railroad unless provision is made for the protection of shippers and passengers interested in the $2,000,000 alleged overcharge suit now pending against the road. Announcement on this effect was made here tonight by the attorney general.

MINNESOTA HAS NO CHANGE WITH WISCONSIN IN FIELD MEET

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 22.—Minnesota never had a chance with Wisconsin in the dual track meet at Northrop field today, the Badgers winning by 91 to 35. The visitors took first place in 11 of the 14 events and finished second in nine with a tie for second between the two teams in the pole vault.

The feature of the meet was the work of Joe Fournier with the hammer, which he hurled 139 feet 10 inches, thereby breaking the Minnesota record which he himself set ten days ago with a mark of 131 feet 4 inches.

Fournier easily defeated Van Ghent and Keeler the Badger gridiron giants.

CONDITION IMPROVING.

Florence, Italy, May 22.—The condition of Mrs. Mary Flavelle of Chicago who was shot on board a train between Florence and Assisi yesterday, was better tonight.

Senator Kern, leader of the majority said a vote would be taken May 28th, or shortly afterward, and added that the repeal bill would be passed by a majority of at least ten.

Senator Simmons returned to the senate today after a short illness with measles. He took up the fight for repeal at once and will direct the administration forces until the vote is taken. He will speak for repeal early next week.

Senator Chamberlain and Borah opponents of the repeal bill spoke today in the senate. Senator Chamberlain said that if the repeal bill passed he would expect to see an effort made in the near future to permit railroad owned ships to use the Panama canal. Senator Borah attacked the argument yesterday of Senator Root that if the national veto of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty it impairs its agreement with the republic of Panama and impeaches its title to the canal gained from that country. He said that the final verdict in the matter of the tolls controversy would be written by the highest tribunal, the people.

Anti-trust Program Started.

The administration anti-trust program was started on its way to the statute books today when the house, with the legislative machinery working under forced draft, completed consideration of the Covington trade commission bill and laid that measure aside for final passage.

The final vote on the bill will be taken after the house has completed consideration of the Clayton anti-trust bill which was taken up immediately and the administration railroad securities bill. House leaders count on having all three measures out of the way and up to the senate within three weeks.

Night sessions of the house on the Clayton anti-injunction bill began tonight. Representative Webb of North Carolina in opening the debate told of the various provisions of the bill which affected interlocking directorates, holding companies, injunctions and contempt procedure.

Many members participated in the speech-making today and tonight.

ASK APPOINTMENT OF NEW
RECEIVER FOR THE FRISCO

Bankers Trust Co., of New York Files Suit Asking for Appointment and Foreclosure on Mortgage.

St. Louis, May 22.—The appointment of a new receiver for the St. Louis and San Francisco (Frisco) railroad and foreclosure on a mortgage securing $69,524,000 in gold bonds of the Frisco were asked in a suit filed with the United States district court here today by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York.

Failure to pay interest is given as the cause of the suit for foreclosure. According to the petition the trust company in August 1910, acquired the $69,000,000 block of gold bonds which were to run fifteen years. The petition asks the court to appoint a receiver who would take charge of all the effects of the Frisco system including its revenues and securities, which were given to secure the bonds.

The present receivers of the road, James W. Lusk, W. B. Biddle and W. C. Nixon are agreeable to the trust company if the court desires to appoint them, the petition declares.

ENVOYS CONFER WITH AMERICAN DELEGATES

THREE SEPARATE CONFERENCES CON- STITUTE WORK OF THE MEDIATORS

Mexican Delegates Are Not Called Into Consultation—No Hitch Reported in Negotiations—Progress Is Being Made at Each Session—Mediators and American and Mexican Delegates Sight Seeing Between Conferences.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 22.—Three separate conferences today between three South American envoys and the American delegates constituted the work of the mediation conference here.

The Mexican delegates were not called into consultation.

While the subject of constitutionality was a subject absorbing interest to all the principals to the conference, it was learned tonight that neither the American delegates nor the mediators had broached it in the formal sessions today.

In response to newspaper inquiries about their attitude toward constitutionalist representation the Mexican delegates issued a statement saying they would await formal notices of such question from the mediators themselves before commenting on it and then would consult their home government. Incidentally the South American envoys let it be known that beyond the press dispatches they had no information about the intentions of the constitutionalists.

Except for the references to the press dispatches in informal conversation about the general situation, the mediators in the main ignored the question of constitutionalist participation, going forward with their efforts to arrive at an agreement between the United States and the Huerta government on the difference which caused the present strained relations.

The possibility of constitutionalist acceptance was discussed privately by many of the principals to the conference. Obviously they were much interested but one of the mediators indicated clearly that they were not likely to renew the invitation previously extended to the constitutionalists and then withdrawn. They feel that the next move must come from the constitutionalists and that their entry must be unconditional just as were the acceptances by the United States and the Huerta government of the tender of good offices for mediation.

The view held by the mediators for the present the most feasible way of solving the Mexican problem is to secure a bi-partite agreement between the Huerta government and the United States reserving efforts to secure acceptance of the programme by the constitutionalists.

It is known to meet the approval of the Mexican delegates. The have not committed themselves to any course programme by the constitutionalists. There is to come into the negotiations. Officially it is understood that the Huerta government had no objection to the entry of the constitutionalists in the negotiations. The Mexican delegates, however, in their statement tonight emphasized that they had no official word on the subject as yet.

The fact that the mediators spent most of their time with the American commissioners today was said to be due to instructions to the latter to refer practically all points of importance to the Washington government as they advanced in the negotiations. Two long communications passed between the white house and the American delegates and when they conferred late tonight with the mediators, it was understood that they still were discussing in which the various points in the mediation would be approached.

One of the American commissioners said tonight that no common ground had been reached but there was no hitch in the negotiations and progress was being made at each session. Between the conferences of the day the mediators and the American and Mexican delegations went sight-seeing about the falls.

Progress Is Satisfactory.

The night conference between the mediators and the American delegates adjourned a few minutes before midnight. It was declared afterwards by one of those present that the progress being made was very satisfactory.

Has Had No Instructions.

New York, May 22.—Jose Vasconcelos, the special agent of Carranza, who, it has been reported would be chosen as a constitutionalist representative to the Niagara conference, emphatically denied in a statement tonight that he was to receive such an appointment or that Carranza would ever consider mediation as a solution of Mexico's internal affairs.

As long as the Huertistas are at Niagara we shall not be represented there," Mr. Vasconcelos said. "The only way my party meets Huerta is on the battle field."

"I have no instructions and no information about the rumored participation of the constitutionalists in the mediation except what I read in today's papers."

Mr. Vasconcelos has just finished a special mission in Toronto and will return to Mexico by way of Washington.

"I suppose," he said, "that my sudden departure from Toronto, where I stopped for three days, has given rise to the unfounded rumor that I was a peace delegate. As far as I know I shall go from Washington direct to Saltillo to meet General Carranza."

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A telegrapher's blunder was responsible for the incorrect announcement on May 20th, that Huerta had given out a statement saying he had authorized the peace delegates to offer his resignation if necessary. This dispatch was subsequently withdrawn on receipts of advices from Mexico City showing that it was an error.

An investigation immediately was started by the Associated Press to determine where the responsibility rested and the Association is now in receipt of a statement from the Western Union Telegraph company admitting that its receiving operator in the Galveston office misread the word "denying" and substituted therefor the word "saying" which gave a directly contrary meaning to the despatch.

Are the Two Favorable Features of Week's Trade Report—Confidence Not Disturbed by Reports of Damage to Winter Wheat.

New York, May 22.—Breadstreet's will say tomorrow:

"Better weather and improved retail demand are the two fundamental features of this week's trade report. These first noticed at the west last week have advanced eastward and the result is probably the best trade in months at retail."

"Wearing apparel has figured largely in these reports; but hardware, implements and similar products have also enjoyed a better demand. Best reports as yet come from the west and northwest, but eastern reports are also more cheerful."

"Southern reports are rather irregular."

Dun's Weekly Review.

New York, May 22.—Dun's Review will say tomorrow:

"Higher temperatures in many sections have afforded stimulus to distribution of seasonal merchandise at retail while jobbing trade has also benefited. In certain instances, improvement is marked and, though future requirements are not being freely anticipated the situation is strengthened by the absence of large stocks."

"Confidence is not disturbed by reports of damage to winter wheat, as some impairment of the crop was expected, before harvest and conditions have not changed the prospect for an unprecedented yield. Prices, however, have advanced rather sharply."

"Failures this week 359 against 265 last year; in Canada 36 against 33."

A traveler who calls in many cities larger than ours, remarked this week that the straw hats shown by FRANK BYRNS Hat Store excelled any display he had seen this season.

The Road to Success.

The best brain effort and indigestion do not go hand in hand. If you would win a lasting success you must keep your stomach in good working order and your bowels regular. This is easily done if you go at it right. Mrs. C. C. Baker, Homer City, Pa., writes: "About two years ago I suffered from stomach trouble and constipation. After I began using Chamberlain's Tablets my condition improved. At the end of a week I could eat and sleep well." Sold by all dealers.—adv.

THE ALTON'S ECONOMY POLICY.

Bloomington, May 22.—Operating expenses of the Chicago & Alton, including only salaries of employees on a monthly basis, and various economies in rentals, supplies, etc., have been reduced $70,000 per month by President W. G. Bierd. It has been the aim of the new chief to reduce the number of records by which a vastly decreased clerical force is possible. For many years various positions in the engineering, operating, mechanical and maintenance departments were carried, the salaries for which have always proven a heavy drain upon the company. President Bierd has been merciless in abolishing these positions and, apparently, the road has not suffered through the change. The money saved is being applied upon locomotives and freight cars, a large number of each being overhauled and stored in anticipation of a heavy movement of grain. The present summer is the first for many years, when the car shops in Bloomington have been operated upon full time, and with an augmented force. Instead of the usual accumulation of "bad order" cars, the management hopes to have 2000 box cars in first class shape by August 1.

ARENZVILLE IS NOW "DRY" TERRITORY.

For the final time the three saloons in Arenzville closed their doors at 11 o'clock Wednesday evening. At the recent election they were voted out by a majority of seven, but according to the local option law they were allowed thirty days to run before closing. This is the first time in the history of Arenzville that the town has been without saloons. Since many cities in the vicinity of Arenzville, the saloons there had been doing a flourishing business. The local option people, it is understood, had the band out Wednesday night on account of the closing of the saloons.

ALEXANDER ARMSTRONG HAS REACHED 83RD. BIRTHDAY

Veteran of Civil War is Getting Old But Is Still Vigorous in Mind and Body.

Today marks the 83rd birthday of Alexander Armstrong, so long a resident of this city and one of the brave men who fought through the greater part of the rebellion without wincing or tiring in the performance of duty at any time.

Mr. Armstrong proudly boasts of his Scotch-Irish blood. He was born in County Fermanagh, Ireland, north part, May 23rd, 1831. His mother was Scotch and his father originally from England. His father was a cultivated man, a teacher and afterward business manager for a gentleman in that vicinity, near Killen. He was killed when his son Alexander was yet small and left a wife and eight children.

Mrs. Armstrong had heard of the land of promise across the water and with five of her children started for Canada in 1848. She left behind three of them, Alexander being one, and landed in Quebec, Canada, where she obtained a situation as housekeeper for a man who was in the poultry business. After being there a time she moved to Pittsburgh, Penn. The other children came over and Alexander and a younger brother went to Philadelphia where lived a cousin of Mrs. Armstrong, a merchant with several stores doing a large trade. The relative received the boys very kindly and offered to take the young brother and tried him but the boy was not fitted for city life so he was bound to a farmer with whom he remained till of age. He was kindly and justly treated and became a success in life and is now a resident of California. The cousin also sold out his stores and went to the golden state shipping a lot of his goods across the isthmus and amassed a large fortune.

While in Philadelphia there was a large fire which Mr. Armstrong went with his little brother to see. There was a fight and the boys came near being mixed up in the crowd. The smaller brother was thrown down but the other rescued him and getting into the shelter of a doorway they remained in safety.

Mr. Armstrong went to Pittsburgh to his mother who insisted he should learn a trade and went to work as a plumber, gas and steam fitter and remained in the employ of the city till September 1862 when he enlisted in Capt. Coffman's Company D, of the famous 101st regiment of Illinois Infantry. He served till mustered out about three years later and returned to this city.

The history of the 101st has been told many times and the great services rendered by the brave men who did so much for their country will never be overrated nor too well repaid.

Returning to this city he again took his position at the State School for the Deaf for two years when he opened a shop of his own. Afterward he was associated with Philip Brand for a while and after that he was fire chief till 1876 when he was appointed engineer of the water works and the efficient services of himself and D. C. Fry are matters of city history.

This position he held till 1891 when he was replaced by A. C. Thompson and he went to the Central Hospital for the Insane and remained there four years. He then went into the windmill business and assisted in selling and putting up 320 mills.

For the past few years he has not engaged in any business but is peacefully passing the evening of his life in the community of which he has been a member so long. He has been a patriotic citizen and faithful in the performance of duty as he understood it. He has ever been faithful member of the Republican party and honestly supported its candidates, as a rule.

When he was living in Pittsburgh he had occasion to go back to the old country on business and ten days after his return was election day and he proudly cast his vote for John C. Fremont and remarked that he voted ten days after landing in America and did so legally.

He was married in 1859 and is the father of a son, Samuel, and a daughter Louise. His wife and son's wife are both dead and he lives with the rest of the family.

It is a boast of Columbus Hairgrove that the 101st was the best regiment in the field and Co. D, the best company. Of it Mr. Hairgrove, his brother, W. J. Armstrong, A. B. Core, J. O. Hamilton, Champion Ferguson and Samuel Jumper remain and each of them is over eighty years of age. Long may they be with us yet.

The styles of men's straw hats are higher but the prices are not. FRANK BYRNS Hat Store for the correct style, $2.00 up.

MRS. FISKE AT THE GRAND TONIGHT

Doubtless the most enduring chapters in the history of dramatic art in America will be those that have been written by Mrs. Fiske. Nor should the past tense be the favored term of expression, for Mrs. Fiske is still "writing", and as long as her activities are enlisted on behalf of the stage, she will continue to be one of its most important figures. No stage name stands higher in respect, no stage career has been more replete with artistic accomplishment. The profession of acting owes much to Mrs. Fiske and the debt is not to Mrs. Fiske as an individual, so much as it is to Mrs. Fiske as a force and as a representative. She has, throughout her career, been a militant crusader for the artistic faith. Her ideals have always been high and she has never sacrificed them, even when adherence to them seemed a challenge to what would ordinarily be considered success.

Mrs. Fiske's stage career is divided into two parts. When she took up the second, the first having been that of her childhood as Minnie Madder, she gave the traditions a violent wrench by electing to appear as Mrs. Fiske. It was the first time that the prefix "Mrs." had appeared and it was generally looked upon, professionally, that is, as a very dangerous experiment. At that time it was most uncommon for one to use one's own name for stage purposes, and for Mrs. Fiske to do so and with it the matrimonial prefix, was considered a deliberate courting of disaster. On the contrary it has been, and always will be, in the opinion of a great many, a strong factor in the very high regard in which Mrs. Fiske is everywhere held.

Mrs. Fiske's versatility has been truly remarkable and the most striking thing about it has been that no new exposition of it has even suffered in comparison with anything that has gone before or that came after. Can anyone call to mind a group of characters more diversified than "Tess," "Becky Sharp," "Salvation Nell," "Lady Patricia," "Dolce," and "Little Italy"? Could any range be wider than that evidenced by such totally dissimilar plays? And those are only a few. Among others in which Mrs. Fiske's astonishing versatility has been shown might be mentioned "Divorcons," "Frou-Frou," "A Doll's House," "Hedda Gabler," "Rosmersholm,"—she was the original disciple of Ibsen in America and by playing "Rosmersholm" to a total of 199 performances established a record for all countries—"Mary of Magdala," "Hannele," "The New York Idea," "The High Road" and "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," in which she plays a role totally unlike any other in which she has ever been seen.

You can get your size, style and price straw hat at FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store now.

COMPARES CITY TO CAPITAL.
Mr. J. Howard Fishback of Washington, D. C., has been spending a few days at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Robert Cunningham. Mr. Fishback left Jacksonville, where quite a small boy, but always enjoys renewing old acquaintances here. He was very enthusiastic over the natural beauties of Jacksonville, and thinks there are no streets in the capital city which compare with College avenue and State street.

PLANS WELL UNDER WAY FOR THE CHAUTAUQUA

DIRECTORS HAVE AGREED UPON TENTATIVE PROGRAM EVENTS.

Supt. Shaw Here Friday for Conference—Thursday, August 27th to Be Jacksonville Day—Mrs. Helen Brown Read Engaged for Concert on That Day—Program of a Varied Character and Will Interest Everyone.

James H. Shaw of Bloomington, superintendent of the Jacksonville Chautauqua, was in the city Friday to meet with the directors of the Chautauqua Association. At a luncheon held at the Dunlap House an extended conference was held and a tentative program for the chautauqua was agreed upon.

Practically all of the attractions for the ten days have been fixed but there may be some slight variations in the program as outlined. Those who met with Mr. Shaw yesterday were A. C. Rice, John W. Merrigan, Bernard Cause, Dr. J. R. Harker, Dr. Josephine Milligan, Mrs. U. G. Woodman, Charles R. Knollenberg, Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp and Dr. C. E. Black. Aside from the program various matters relative to chautauqua plans were discussed.

A glance at the program convinces that the association is providing a series of entertainment fully up to the high standard of the past two years. The opening date is Friday, August 21 and the formal program will begin in the afternoon of that day. Sunday, August 30, is the closing date and for the final session there will be three attractions, Lou T. Beauchamp, the Harmony Concert Co., and the Jeffries Concert Band. The program in general has been outlined as follows:

Program Day By Day.

Friday, August 21.—Afternoon: Powers company; Jeffries Concert Band and James H. Shaw; Evening: Powers Company, Dean Sumner, Jeffries Band.

Saturday, August 22.—Morning: Sunday school parade; Afternoon: Sunday school program, Clark company, Jeffries Band; Evening: Clark Company, Jeffries Band, Jessie Eldridge Southwick.

Sunday, August 23.—No morning program; Afternoon, Jessie Eldridge Southwick, Maurer sisters, Jeffries Band; Evening, Maurer sisters, Orchestra, Father Dunnigan, Jeffries Band.

Monday, August 24.—Morning: Physical culture and Boys and Girls club directed by Miss Margaret Hemmaway; Afternoon, Kaffir Boy Choir, James H. Shaw, Jeffries Band; Evening, Jessie Eldridge Southwick, Jeffries Band.

Tuesday, August 25.—Morning: Physical culture, Boys and Girls club; Afternoon, Jessie Eldridge Southwick, Fisher-Ship Company; Evening, Bede-Sidell Debate, Fisher-Ship Company, Jeffries Band.

Wednesday, August 26.—Morning: Physical culture Boys and Girls club; Afternoon, Welch Choir, Jeffries Band; Evening, Welch Choir, Jeffries Band.

Thursday, August 27.—Morning: physical culture Boys and Girls club; Afternoon, Mrs. Helen Brown Read, Baby Show, Jeffries Band;

Evening, McCarty's Arabs, Edmund Vance Cook, Motion pictures. Friday, August 28.—Morning, physical culture Boys and Girls club; Afternoon and evening, Chicago Marine Band.

Saturday, August 29.—Morning, Physical culture, Boys and Girls club; Afternoon, Agricultural talk probably by Bert Ball of Chicago; Evening, Lawrence B. Stringer, Jane Addams, "The Down of Plenty" a motion picture lecture.

Sunday, August 30.—No morning program; Lou T. Beauchamp, The Harmony Company and Jeffries Band, afternoon and night.

While the members of the program committee were unable to see Mr. Jeffries or Mr. Johnson of the Jeffries Concert Band yesterday they agreed to secure the band if possible. Should there be a conflict of dates which will take the band elsewhere during the chautauqua it will be necessary to secure another band or a series of attractions to take the place of the splendid home organization.

Jacksonville Day Designated. Thursday, August 27, has been designated as Jacksonville Day and it is therefore especially appropriate that Mrs. Helen Brown Read has been secured for a program on that date. The contract with Mrs. Read was not made until yesterday afternoon. McCarty's Arabs will also make a substantial contribution to the attractions of Jacksonville Day and Edmund Vance Cook, who will read some of his own poetry, is accounted a stellar attraction on the chautauqua platform. The baby show is also scheduled as a Jacksonville Day feature and it will certainly prove one if the record of last year is equalled.

The debate between Adam H. Bede and former Mayor Sidell of Milwaukee will present the big question of Socialism in a way which will prove interesting and helpful to the average auditor. Both men are eminent in the advocacy of the different views they hold upon this question which is now occupying so large a place in public thought.

Mrs. Jessie Eldridge Southwick is associated with her husband in the direction of the Emerson College of Oratory in Boston. She has a splendid reputation for her dramatic work and is said to excel especially in Shakespearean interpretation.

Various Musical Attractions. In the musical line the Chicago Marine Band, famous the country over, will be the largest organization. The band is scheduled for two concert programs. Mr. Clark of the Clark Company is a baritone of good reputation and the other members of his musical organization, also stand well. The Welch Choir is made up of men and women singers recently from Wales and they are sweet voiced and talented musicians.

Dean Sumner is a member of the Chicago School Board and was appointed by Mayor Harrison a member of the vice commission. He has been interested for years in national uplift work. A great deal of interest will attach to the address by Miss Jane Addams of Hull House. No other woman social settlement worker has achieved quite the prominence that has come to Miss Addams and she has indeed accomplished a great work in Chicago and is recognized as one of the great forces for social betterment in that city. Lou T. Beauchamp gives a series of lectures especially for the benefit of young men. He is not a preacher but his talks abound in homely, sound advice given in such a way that he is heard with interest.

Father P. J. Dunnigan of Lapeer, Mich., has the unique distinction of being mayor of the town in which he lives. He has been given this preferment, notwithstanding the fact that but three per cent of the people of Lapeer are members of the Catholic church. One of his best lectures is on religious bigotry and while he is strong in his own faith he is very tolerant of the religious belief of other people.

Classes For Boys and Girls. Women and children who attended the chautauqua last year have delightful recollections of the physical culture classes and the Boys and Girls Club, directed by Miss Margaret Hemmaway and will be glad that the association has secured her services for the coming season. Lawrence B. Stringer, for years prominent in Democratic state politics and well known also for his oratorical ability, will undoubtedly have something worth while to say.

Among other matters discussed yesterday was that of tenting privileges. No arrangements have yet been made for tents although there are several firms anxious to enter into a contract. It is the intention to have a plat made of the grounds which will be available for tents and then any person desiring to rent a tent may select a site in advance. The association committees have all the plans for the chautauqua well under way and with favorable weather there can be no question as to the success of the chautauqua of 1914.

A man well dressed in knoles' seasonable clothing is wise.

SURPRISE FOR MISS WALLER. Miss Mary M. Moxon entertained a small company of friends Friday evening at her home, 1924 South Clay avenue, in honor of Miss Mildred Waller for whom the occasion was a surprise. Clever games featured the entertainment and the evening as a whole was most enjoyably spent. Light refreshments were served by the hostess at a convenient hour.

ROCK ISLAND WINS. Monmouth, Ill., May 22.—The Rock Island high school won the annual Western Illinois Interscholastic meet here today with 21 points. Galesburg was second and Viola third. Swanson of Viola and Hamilton of Galesburg tied for individual honors with eight points each. The meet was held under the auspices of Monmouth college.

"The elimination of Huerta will not solve our difficulties. We shall continue to disregard the present conference. We are not fighting a man, but a series of abuses."

"We shall probably be in Mexico City within a month, in other words, we shall be in possession of Mexico while the A. B. C. delegates are conferring with a power which no longer exists."

Has Not Been Informed.

Washington, May 22.—Plans under consideration by the constitutionalists for sending a representative to give information to the mediators at Niagara Falls have not been communicated to Jose Vasconcelos. Mr. Vasconcelos has been suggested to undertake this task, however, and the situation will be explained to him when he reaches Washington tomorrow. It was pointed out tonight that if the constitutionalists finally sent one of their number to Niagara he would not go as a delegate or with the purpose of seeking participation in mediation but merely to give information to General Carranza's plans and purposes. This would be done with the distinct understanding that the constitutionalists were not committed to any plan the mediators might propose for the pacification of Mexico.

Baby of Future is Considered

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity. In the cities there are maternity hospitals equipped with modern methods. But most women prefer their own homes and in the towns and villages must prefer them. And since this is true we know from the great many splendid letters written on the subject that our "Mother's Friend" is a great help to expectant mothers. They write of the wonderful relief, how it seemed to allow the muscles to expand without undue strain and what a splendid influence it was on the nervous system. Such helps as "Mother's Friend" and the broader knowledge of them should have a helpful influence upon babies of the future. Science says that an infant derives its sense and builds its character from cutaneous impressions. And a tranquil mother certainly will transmit a more healthful influence than if she is extremely nervous from undue pain. This is what a host of women believe who used "Mother's Friend" during their period of expectancy.

These points are more thoroughly explained in a little book mailed free. "Mother's Friend" is sold in all drug stores and highly recommended for its timely usefulness, its safety and the real help it affords. Ask for it at the store and write us for the book. Bradfield Regulator Co., 511 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

The effect of this splendid external application is an expression of the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

THIRD HOG CHOLERA EPIDEMIC NOW PREVAILS

Has Increased Greatly in Northern States Recently—Condition of Swine as Given in April was Below Ten Year Average.

The country is passing through the third serious epidemic of hog cholera of the past 30 years. The first period reached its climax in 1886 to 1887, when the loss amounted to about 134 per 1,000 head in one year. The second outbreak developed in 1894, and reached its climax in 1896 to 1897, when losses amounted to 144 per 1,000 head. The present extensive epidemic of hog cholera began to be serious in 1911; during the 10 years prior to the loss of swine ranged from 45 to 58 per 1,000 per year; in 1911 it jumped to 89, then to 110 in 1912, and to 119 last year. It has thoroughly ravaged the heart of the hog producing belt during the year just past. In the state of Iowa alone, losses amounted to nearly 1,800,000 swine, over a fourth of the entire number in the state. In many counties over half were lost, and in some townships over nine-tenths.

Hog Cholera Losses in 1913. The epidemic has abated somewhat in the past year, as compared with the preceding year, in most southern states, states, but has increased greatly in the northern states. Thus, in Florida the loss has decreased from 170 per 1,000 in 1912 to 150 in 1913; in Georgia from 163 to 90; in Alabama from 110 to 100; in Mississippi from 154 to 104; in Kentucky from 95 to 50; in Missouri from 175 to 90; whereas in Iowa the loss has increased from 160 per thousand in 1912 to 255 per thousand in 1913, in Minnesota from 55 to 214, in Nebraska from 110 to 175, in South Dakota from 38 to 230, and in North Dakota from 20 to 75. The tendency of the three epidemics mentioned appears to have been, in a general way, to move as a wave from south and east to north and west.

Condition of Swine, April, 1914. The condition as to healthfulness of hogs on April 1, 1914, was given as 91.6 per cent of normal, which compares with 91.4 per cent given a year ago and 94.4 the average of the past ten years.

The number of breeding sows in the United States on April 1 is estimated to be about 101 per cent of the number held a year ago and about the same number as were held two years ago. — U. S. Farmers' Bulletin, 590.

The Carpenter

By WALT MASON.

With shining weapons newly sharpened, the carpenter goes forth to carpent. No work of his is e'er a fizzle, but every product of his chisel, and of his plane and saw and measure, increases human peace and pleasure. Oh, where would be your vine clad cottage, in which you hit the eggs and potage; and where would be the stately palace, where you drink grape juice from a chalice; and where would be the school and college, imparting forty kinds of knowledge, but for the fan whose saw and hammer kick up all day so glad a clamor? The man who nails the boards and shingles deserves all praise in prose in jingles; he builds the homes in which we tarry, in which we dance and sing and marry. He builds the church wherein the pastor explains of the doctrine of the Master, our world worn spirits elevating; he builds the rinks where we go skating; he builds the bleachers where we gather, to see the game, the whole blamed slather; and when we're done with this world's muddle he builds the box in which we cuddle. The carpenter, in all the ages, has done far more than bards or sages to make the world a better planet than 'twas when Eve and Adam ran it. He builds the homes, while 't'other fellows just sit around and work the bellows.

RAILROAD NOTES.

C. W. Sunderland of Springfield, traveling freight agent of the Wabash, visited the local office Thursday.

The Chicago & Alton is still seeking more economical management and has consolidated the north and south divisions and Superintendent Miller of the south division will resign and S. P. Henderson, superintendent of the northern division will have charge of the whole. Mr. Henderson has been in Jacksonville a number of times and has made a very favorable impression on those whom he has met.

Week end excursions are to be resumed on the Chicago & Alton road and will doubtless be well patronized as in the past.

At the Car Shops. Switch engine No. 7 is in fine shape now and is awaiting orders ready to go for business.

Engine No. 50 was being fired up yesterday getting ready for business.

Engine No. 63 has gone out and headed for Springfield. The once bad looking machine is as fine as any new engine could be and will be all right for any amount of hard work.

Frank De Frates, helper to the spring maker in the blacksmith shop is sick.

Charley Pires of the blacksmith shop is serving his country on the pet's jury. The efficient foreman, William Sauer, takes his place while he is away.

A day or two since the force pump that feeds the boiler of the big engine gave out or needed repairs and all the shops that needed power had to close down part of a day.

Philip Brainer, spring maker in the blacksmith shop, went with his wife to Concord to spend Sunday with friends and relatives.

John Doyle, tin shop foreman, Frank Doyle, apprentice, Clay Corbridge and James Hennessey of the machine shop, and William Quinlan of the boiler shop, are preparing for a camping trip in the vicinity of Wolf Lake or some other region along the Illinois river.

The veteran blacksmith, George Yeck, spent Sunday with friends in Beardstown.

James Dickens had the misfortune to suffer a badly mashed toe caused by a heavy weight falling on it. It is quite painful but he resolutely sticks to his job.

Dan Mahoney, blacksmith helper, spent Sunday with friends and relatives in Beardstown.

H. E. Becker, chief springkeeper, was over recently from Springfield looking over things about the shops.

W. C. Hurst, general manager, came over in his private car Thursday and visited the shops.

The shops will close down May 25th for general invoice taking.

The dynamite wreckage is pretty well cleared up and the scrap sent away. It took 24 cars for the business. Among the property destroyed were two car loads of automobile, Buicks and Stoddard-Daytons.

Work has been begun on four new dump cars.

Inspector Michaels is acting as freight brakeman for a while.

The brake machinery on the passenger cars is being overhauled and changed to conform to the new national law for safety.

Passenger coach No. 46 is almost ready to go out and is looking exceptionally fine and bright within and without.

TO DISCUSS FOREIGN TRADE.

National Convention at Washington Will Attract Many.

Washington, May 22.—Advices received by the committee in charge of the local arrangements for the national foreign trade convention to be held in this city next week indicate that it will be the largest and most important gathering of the business interests of the country held in many years. The convention will meet under the auspices of the American Manufacturers' Export association, the Pan American society and other organizations interested in promoting the foreign commerce of the United States. Included in the attendance will be many of the leading manufacturers, merchants, bankers and exporters from every section of the country.

President Wilson, Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce and a number of senators and representatives will be among the speakers. The general committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Lloyd Griscom of New York, former United States ambassador to Japan.

Secretary Redfield has accepted an invitation to make the opening address. Other noted speakers at the initial session will be James J. Hill of St. Paul, Edward C. Simmons of St. Louis, James A. Arnold of the Texas Business Men's association and Ellison A. Smyth, president of the South Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' association.

One of the questions to be discussed at the convention will be how far the co-operation of the government is necessary or desirable in carrying forward the export trade of the country. Secretary Redfield has expressed the opinion that the government can do a great deal more than it has done thus far, and that its powers should be used to the fullest extent possible.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS MEET Salina, Kas., May 22.—Salina's population was increased about two thousand today by an invasion of "drummers" from every section of the state. The occasion of the gathering is the annual convention of the Kansas division of the United Commercial Travelers. The proceedings will continue over tomorrow. At the opening session today reports were presented showing the affairs of the state organization to be in a flourishing condition, with a gratifying gain in membership during the past year.

BARTHOLOTT HAS DECLINED TO RUN FOR OFFICE AGAIN

Veteran Missouri Congressman Issues Statement That He is Firm in Decision Not to Be Candidate.

Washington, May 22.—Representative Richard Bartholdt, veteran Republican representative in Congress from Missouri, stands pat on his declaration of last December that he will not be a candidate for another term in the House.

There have been times when it was thought Mr. Bartholdt might be persuaded to run again, and he confessed yesterday there was a time since his announcement in December when he wavered, owing to the thousands of letters and personal appeals he received from friends and constituents to continue in the harness he has worn for twenty-two years. Men whose standing and influence made it most difficult for him to resist have endeavored to prevail upon him to seek one more term in Congress, but Mr. Bartholdt's mind was made up and he definitely sweeps aside all rumors and reports and speculation as to his future candidacy in a statement which appeared yesterday.

Twenty-Two Years on Firing Line. Here is the statement:

"Last month it was forty-two years since I landed in this country as an immigrant boy. From that day to this I have worked with hand and mind, almost without a day's interruption, and for twenty-two years I have stood on the firing line of public life, putting all the energy and vitality I could master into the service of the people of my district and country. I am sure my friends and constituents will understand how, after forty-two years of strenuous effort, I long for a rest, at least for a year or two, for relief from the burdens and responsibilities of office and for the enjoyment of the freedom and advantages of private life.

"Therefore, in December last I announced through the newspapers that I would not seek a renomination for Congress this year, and permit me to add now that in contradiction of some illustrious examples, I meant what I said. If any one doubted my renomination and re-election I would probably make the race, but as I am bound to agree with the several thousand friends who, in generously urging me to reconsider, asserted that my re-election would be absolutely assured by an old-time majority, I am fortunately enabled to say that my retirement is entirely voluntary, and due solely to a desire to quit when I am still in the full possession of my mental and physical faculties. If I consented to have another term the same arguments which my friends are advancing now would probably be repeated two years hence, and in the end I would be a wreck, like so many I have seen here, and who have always been a horrible example to me.

"All things considered, the present time, I think, is most favorable for my retirement, the administration and Congress being Democratic and there being little doubt that the most vital questions in which just now the people of my district are interested, prohibiting for instance, will be settled during this incumbency, i. e., between now and March 4th, next.

"It will go hard with me, I know, to place behind me the pleasant companionship of my colleagues here, and still more so to sever my official relationship with the people of my district who have honored me so highly, and, since my first announcement, have given me such renewed and overwhelming evidence of their confidence and esteem, but I am comforted by the prospect that soon I expect to be back among them to take my place in the ranks and in hands with all those who strive legitimately to restore the supremacy of the Republican party in state and nation—a party to whose undying principles I shall ever be faithful. And now let me repeat what I said in December, that I shall retire with a heart devoid of malice towards any and filled only with love to my fellowmen and with grateful appreciation of the fact that I have been given an opportunity to serve my country."

When asked what his plans are after March 4th Mr. Bartholdt today said:

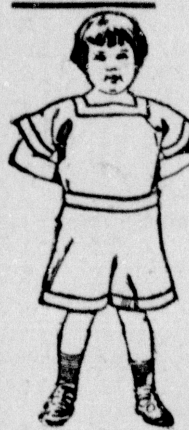

"I shall be as free as a bird in the air, relying on my pen and a little competency saved up by a rainy day to support me. If I were obliged to put up with a master I would rather continue serving the people than to identify myself with any special interest."

Mr. Bartholdt goes to Cincinnati, where, on Friday, he will address a mass meeting of German-Americans at Music Hall. The meeting will be preceded by a parade, given as a demonstration against the proposed constitutional amendment for nation-wide prohibition. He will be the principal speaker of the occasion. From Cincinnati he will proceed to St. Louis, where he is to deliver an oration at the unveiling, next Sunday, of the Schurz-Pretorius-Daenzer monument.

PAYS PENALTY ON GALLOWES. Montreal, May 22.—Tommaso Bernardi, an Italian murderer, was executed in the prison here today. His crime was the murder of Luigi Scroli, whom he shot and killed on the street in April of last year. Jealousy was the motive for the killing. At the time of the killing Scroli was talking with a woman, who was also shot and whose life was for some time despaired of.

JUDGE BEN B. LINDSAY URGES FEDERAL INTERVENTION

President Wilson Asked to Force Argument Between Miners and Operators in Colorado Coal Fields.

Washington, May 21.—Intervention by the federal government to force an argument between mine owners and miners in the Colorado coal fields was urged on President Wilson today by Judge Ben B. Lindsay of Denver and a delegation of Colorado women. It was indicated that the president was willing to do everything within his constitutional power to bring peace in Colorado but that he believed the state should solve the difficulty if possible.

Judge Lindsay announced that he planned to go later in the week with his party of women to New York and make an effort to see John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and urge him to submit to arbitration of the differences between the mine operators and strikers. He declared that civil war practically existed in Colorado and that something must be done.

President Wilson is understood to have told the delegation today that he was deeply concerned over the Colorado situation and had no present plan of removing the federal troops from the danger zones.

OLDEST SURVIVING WEST POINTER.

Washington, May 22.—Many were the friends who dropped in today at the home of Brig. Gen. Horatio G. Gibson, U. S. A., retired, to tender their congratulations to the distinguished old veteran on the occasion of his 87th birthday anniversary. General Gibson is a well known figure in Washington and at the present time he has claims to distinction such as are possessed by no other soldier in the land. The first of these is that he is the only graduate of West Point on the army list who served in the war with Mexico. In addition, he is the oldest surviving graduate of the military academy.

General Gibson was born in Baltimore, but was appointed to the military academy from Pennsylvania. He graduated in 1847 and immediately started for Mexico. As a lieutenant of artillery he served until the close of the war participating in the capture of Vera Cruz, the battle of Puebla and the taking of the City of Mexico.

In the civil war he rendered services no less distinguished, being several times promoted for gallantry in battle. Despite his 87 years and the fact that he has been retired from active service for nearly a quarter of a century, General Gibson still possesses the fighting spirit. When the Mexican situation took a serious turn a few weeks ago the 87 year old veteran was one of the first to tender his services to President Wilson as a soldier.

CARDINALS MEET DEFEAT AT HANDS OF "RUBE" MARQUARD

Giant Twirler Has Excellent Control

Marquard had excellent control, did not pass a batter and struck out five.

Boston, May 22.—By shutting out youthful twirler increased to 38,

the number of innings he had pitched without being scored upon. This is a league record for the season.
Cicotte, the Chicago pitcher, gave

TIGERS USE FIVE HURLERS IN EFFORT TO ANNEX GAME

Athletics Secure Nine Runs in First
Three Innings and Win 9 to 6—
Oldring Is Injured.

Philadelphia, May 22.—Five pitchers were used by Detroit in the game here today, which Philadelphia won by 9 to 6.

Detroit hit Wyckoff hard but he was given excellent support with bases occupied. Burn's batting was a feature, he getting a home run, a double and a single.

In trying to get Burn's homer which went into the left field bleachers, Oldring fell over a box on which a policeman had been seated and hurt his back and side so severely that he was forced to leave the game. The score:

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

Frank Smith is slated to return to Pittsburgh and to the game of hustling pianos into and out of one of his father's vans. President Edward Barrow of the International league has decided that any player who has violated an o. b. contract and fraternized with the outlaws cannot find a harbor in his league.

His decision was made expressly to fit the Smith case and is in answer to an appeal from Manager Lichtenstein of Montreal, where Smith now is on his bended knees pleading for mercy. Baltimore's Federals have washed their hands of Frank also.

The semi-pros. of Allegheny and Altoona are left open to the erratic Smith.

Umpire Westervelt, who was banished by Ban Johnson two years ago because of incompetency, together with a tendency to wrangle with the players, is this season harvesting the same trouble in the American association. Several times, so reports have had it, he has delayed games because of his pugnacity, much to the disgust of the patrons of the sport. At Indianapolis Thursday he chased Brewers Barbeau and Lewis at the conclusion of one of these war of words, badly crippling Milwaukee in the battle with the Indians.

John Bull is enjoying a hearty laugh at the expense of Uncle Sam's golf experts—the first in many years. It was a tough "sandwich" for Outimet, Travers, Evans, Weber and the other Yankees on Sandwich links since the first set-off last Monday. It will be a different tale next month, when Harry Payne Whitney's poloists meet Lord Winbourne's British team in the wilds of Long Island.

The speed race at Indianapolis Memorial day, according to the sharpshooters, will be settled on a question of tires. Bollet, the French driver, on Thursday sent his car over the course for twenty-five miles at a ninety miles an hour clip—a trial record. At the end of the trial all four tires were a wreck.

At the races being held at Churchill Downs some old campaigners
continue to bob up, getting inside
the money nearly every time they face the barrier. Galley Slave, in the third race Thursday, was placed second at a fair price for the place and show. In the fourth,
James Dockery caught the judges'
eye first with good odds against it to win, place and show. John Farlong was close up at about 3 to 1 for the place and 8 to 5 show. The attendance continues good and speculation on the events is quite satisfactory. At the conclusion of this meeting Kentucky's racing commissioner will have a tidy balance on the right side of the ledger, the first in several years.

A crowd of 400 witnessed the slaughter of the Sloufeds by the Pit-feds Thursday in the city of ironmasters, broilers and gilded youths.

Mr. Tyrus Cobb's presence is not missed in the Tiger line-up. His sub., Heilman, is no second-rate
slugger. On the contrary, he connects squarely and nearly always for extra sacks. In the few games he has performed, he has proved that speed is not foreign to him. He travels the paths and the field as swiftly as any man on the team with the possible exception of the Geo-gia cing.

Prexy Murphy was not among those present at Cub park Thursday to watch the Troy crab, with the assistance of Maranville, plunge the gaff into the bruins. Evers and his scrappy shortstop, assisted by a Zimmerman hobble, started out in the first inning and sewed up the game as tight as a "constitutional congress" in the hands of Huerta.

In the first-inning at Baltimore
Thursday the Chifeds whaled out four hits and were presented with two passes. Out of this mess they manufactured two runs. And still there are some fans who persist in labeling the Tinker crew "major leaguers."

Fred Clark's Pirates and Red Doolin's Quakers indulged in a swatfest at Forbes Field Thursday. The former combed fifteen hits off Mayer and Alexander, and the Phils. registered ten off ex-Cardinal Harmon.
Honus Wagner and Mike Mitchell were the leaders of the assault, the Flying Dutchman with three singles; the Wild Irishman in four times up, walked, singled, doubled and tripled. With McGraw's team playing bush ball, Pittsburgh continues to hold a fair lead.

It was "hero" day at Philadelphia
Thursday. A delegation of friends from the mines at Shamokin, Penn., presented Coveleskie of the Tigers with a diamond locket. The gift upset the comeback Giant killer. When the Macks bombarded him in the third, Jennings sent in relief gunner Cavet, who stood the champions upon their heads the rest of the journey. Firstbaseman Burns of the Tigers was given a diamond scarpin by Philadelphia admirers and he showed his appreciation by hitting a circuit off Plank into the leftfield bleachers. Strunk was presented with a bouquet and the gift was a jinx, the speedy Athletic centerfielder being unable to register a put out or a hit.

At the races being held at Churchill Downs some old campaigners
continue to bob up, getting inside
the money nearly every time they face the barrier. Galley Slave, in
the third race Thursday, was placed second at a fair price for the place and show. In the fourth,
James Dockery caught the judges'
eye first with good odds against
it to win, place and show. John Farlong was close up at about 3 to 1 for the place and 8 to 5 show. The attendance continues good and speculation on the events is quite satisfactory. At the conclusion of this meeting Kentucky's racing commissioner will have a tidy balance on
the right side of the ledger, the first in several years.

A crowd of 400 witnessed the
slaughter of the Sloufeds by the Pit-
feds Thursday in the city of iron-
masters, broilers and gilded youths.

Mr. Tyrus Cobb's presence is not missed in the Tiger line-up. His
sub., Heilman, is no second-rate
slugger. On the contrary, he connects squarely and nearly always for extra sacks. In the few games he
has performed, he has proved that

Wood's Grain Softener

By the use of this devise you can produce a gain of 100 lbs. per month with one quarter bushel
corn per day in dry lots. As I am proving this on my farm at present with 43 cattle, come and see for yourself. Eighty head of shoats are feeding on the syrup from the corn.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

BUSINESS ON STOCK EXCHANGE SMALLEST OF ANY DAY THIS YEAR

Low Ebb Recorded Is Due To Lack of Confidence or Indifference on Part of Speculators.

New York, May 22.—Business on the stock exchange today was the smallest of any day thus far this year, the total turnover—93,600 shares—comparing with 98,000 shares of March 2nd, when the blizzard interrupted communication. The low ebb recorded today was due to a lack of confidence or indifference on the part of speculators and investigators in virtually all the securities markets of the world.

Opening prices were a mixture of unimportant advances and declines, from which there was little change as the session progressed. London's market was weak with some further selling here for that account. A conservative estimate places the foreign selling here since the beginning of the year at not less than 300-000 shares. Another gold engagement of $2,000,000 for Paris was reported.

Local monetary conditions show
no change chiefly because the demand has fallen below normal proportions.
Clearing house banks are expected to show a cash gain for the week and bank clearings of the country for that same period show a marked gain over the preceding week.

Agricultural News Valuable To Farmers

PRODUCING MEAT ANIMALS IN CORN BELT

SHOULD BE DONE AS ECONOMICALLY AS IN LOCALITIES WITH CHEAPER LAND.

Balanced Ration Will Make It Possible to Produce Six Cent Hogs With Sixty Cent Corn—Cholera Is Great Loss Danger Which Beats the Path of the Stock Raiser.

Wilbur J. Carmichael, Department of Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois.

Farmers in the state of Illinois, located in the heart of the corn belt with the leading live stock market, Chicago, within its borders; supplied with the very best shipping facilities; capable of growing all of the essential feeds and supplied with the other necessities; ought to produce and market meat animals as cheaply as in any other state in the union. Here we have some cheap land which can be used for grazing, an abundant supply of water easily obtained in every part of the state, land which will produce legumes as well as any and if there is an acre of land that is capable of producing a hundred bushels of corn, we have it.

Some day this land will not give as good returns as it does at the present time unless different methods of farming are adopted by the great majority of farmers. In fact, at the present time, we find we are not getting more than one-half to two-thirds as large yields on many farms as were secured when they were first cropped. The reason for this is very obvious. Nothing has been put back in the place of the plant food that has been taken out of the soil every year. The corn, oats, hay, straw, in fact all of the crops produced, with the exception of that part which is needed for the few animals necessary to do the work, are sold on the market without first being converted into meat. It is true, of course, that if all farmers would try to market their hay and grain through live stock, meat and animals would soon become a glut on the market and there would be a shortage of feed on account of the large numbers of animals not on farms which must of course be fed from farm grown feeds. The supply of cereals regularly converted into human food and other products would of course be cut off as well. Such a condition need not be feared, for there are hundreds, yes thousands of people engaged in farming who would never consent to raise stock on account of dislike for it or for the work which must necessarily accompany such a system.

Production of Hogs.
At the present time, the state produces approximately four and a half million hogs annually, being led only by Iowa with almost twice as many and followed closely by Missouri, Indiana and Ohio, in the order named. These five states reproduce nearly one-fifth of the total supply of hogs of the world, more than 40 per cent of which are raised and fed in the United States. At first glance it might seem that we are now producing our share of them in the state of Illinois and that it is the duty of some of the other states of countries to look after the production of the remainder in sufficient numbers to supply the existing demand. It is very obvious that there is a great demand for them, otherwise the packers and other buyers would not be so willing to pay eight and one-half to nine cents per pound for them. This is the price that is given for them on the Chicago market, but is not much higher than the price that was paid regularly during the past year, which, during the calendar year, 1913, was $8.35 per 100 pounds, as an average for all classes offered for sale. In a six year period, 1908-1913, inclusive, we find that the average price was just one dollar per hundred pounds lower than that of the last year in the period. During the six years given the price was much higher than a 29 year period ending December, 1913, it being a trifle over $5.50 for the period. This gradual rise in price partially to a general rise in price of all materials on the open market and partially on account of an increasing population and decreasing number of hogs during the past few years. The big problem at present is, can we convert feeds at the present prices into pork at its ruling figure?

When we realize that a bushel of corn will produce more than ten pounds of pork year after year, with the average methods of feeding and that we can do appreciably better than this if we will feed carefully selected rations. It seems that we should be able to convert sixty cent corn into six cent pork, if we will consider the manure as coming somewhere near paying for the labor involved. If this is the case, and it will almost do it on well-regulated farms where the hogs are allowed to forage as they should, it seems that we can make a large profit in feeding sixty and sixty-five cent corn to seven and a half or eight cent hogs. It can be done with careful management and handling and it is this comparative economy of production that has given the title "mortgage lifter" to the hog. He would retain the title in most cases, too, if it were not for the fact that he is subject to a disease—cholera—which has cleaned out farms and even entire communities within a single season. This disease is one which has puzzled those who have made the most careful study of the question, even though it has been known and observed for three-quarters of a century. If this one factor could be eliminated the existing conditions would be one of the most profitable business enterprises known. It has been estimated that one can lose all of the hogs every tenth year and still make a profit on the business at the prices that have reigned during the last decade. At times cholera will get in herds in spite of all attempts to keep the animals thrifty, clean and free from other conditions which tend to weaken them and consequently causes greater fatality if they contract the disease. However, much has been done to insure immunity or light loss if the animals are kept thrifty and in otherwise healthful surroundings. If the disease breaks out in a community the state board of live stock commissions should be notified and every possible precaution taken to prevent its spread. Immunization should be done by a competent man with one of the best of serum and virus where both are used.

SWEET CLOVER EXPERIMENTS BEING MADE THIS YEAR

Results as a Field Crop Will Be Noted—Advantages of Soy Beans Over Oats Noted.

This is the first year that any experimentation has been done with sweet clover at this station as a field crop. A great deal is being said and written about it is a field crop over the country. This awakened interest in the legume is the reason for the station taking up the systematic study of the plant. At the south dairy farm it is being grown as a field crop, and the study of the habits of the plant is being made on the breeding plots.

Some of the advantages of soybeans over oats are: (1) That the soybean is a leguminous plant, and therefore increases instead of depletes the store of soil nitrogen. (2) It is a hot weather plant and should not be planted before the latter part of May, thus avoiding the rush incident to getting the oat crop sown, and giving time for a more thorough preparation for, and earlier planting of the corn crop. (3) Being a leguminous plant, the soybean is rich in protein, the most expensive constituent of our feeding stuffs. The entire plant is eaten with avidity by all classes of live stock, even the weather beaten hauled, left after threshing out the beans, is worth more to feed than linseed oilmeal, pound for pound. Not only this, but the beans are an excellent food for human kind. (4) The soybean is an excellent crop to cut into the silo in alternation with corn, being ready for the silo at the same time as corn, and from its nature increasing the nutritive value of the silage. (5) Wheat yields several bushels to the acre more when following soybeans than when following oats, because of the available nitrogen left in the soil by the beans.—By Direct, Charles E. Thorne, in the Ohio Farmer.

If we are to grow pigs at a profit we must grow them as much as possible in the open and away from pens that have become saturated with the poisons that come from the system. The best way to do this is to grow them as much as possible on pasture or green feed of some kind. The gathering of this will take them away from their old pens and give them fresh air, fresh soil, sunshine, and in general the conditions that make for health.

The time has gone by when we can feed corn to either hogs or cats simply for the purpose of making gains. We must grow both kinds of live stock to a greater extent on roughage. Fortunately, in so doing we can utilize roughage that would otherwise go to waste.—Wallace Farmer.

ECHOES FROM ALEXANDER

Alexander Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Alexander resident leaves no room for doubt on this point. John William Aulabaugh, farmer, Alexander, Ill., says: "About two years ago I took several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and I will say that they did me more good than all the doctors I had tried. I have been bothered very little with my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Aulabaugh is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Aulabaugh had. 53c all stores. ### FARMERS SHOULD RAISE MORE DUCKS

VARIETY IN PRODUCTION OF MEATS ON FARM ARE DESIRABLE.

Poultry Could to Advantage Often Be Substituted for Beef on the Table—Little Hotels in England and Scotland Show What Can Be Done In This Line—Duck Raising Profitable Too.

(By D. O. Barto, Poultry Husbandry, University of Illinois—Article I.)
The production of meats of many kinds on the farm, not only for the market but also for home consumption, is a matter of large importance and deserving of careful study.

"When the writer was a boy in a farm home in New York, the principal meats for the family during the larger part of the year were various forms of pork and beef which had been preserved in considerable quantities by salting, pickling, smoking and drying, helped out by the still saltier additions of dried codfish and briny mackerel.

The use of the refrigerators and ice boxes was unknown then and fresh meats could be kept in good condition for so short a time in the ed unsold were handled over, discussed and exposed to clouds of road dust and swarms of flies.

Not yet was ice used nor screens for cleanliness. The animals were killed and dressed in the fields where they were brought from the farmers or in some dirty shed in town and peddled about the country, but as the fresh meat was brought to the door of almost every farm house twice or three times a week his was hailed a great step in civilizing the rural districts.

And later there came refrigerators and ice houses on the farm and these things helped still more with the food problems.

But because of the value and size of most farm animals and the time and skill required to dress them and the trouble of disposing of the surplus meat before it spoiled, the custom of producing and preparing in the home much of the meat for the family use has not become general.

Some years ago the writer made a bicycle trip through Ireland, Scotland and England, using this mode of travel that he might see more intimately the rural parts of the country. His meals and lodging were obtained mainly at the little inns that are so numerous and generally so good all through the country. One of the things that especially attracted attention in the matter of meals was the great use made of poultry, particularly young ducks and geese—"green geese"—an expression heard for the first time in Ireland. So popular and delicious were these poultry dishes that the warm weather that little was used except during the winter. Then the farmers slaughtered and dressed the animals which they had raised and fattened, usually dividing the carcass of beef, mutton, lamb, veal or pork and sharing portions with neighbors who in turn repaid by equivalent amounts when it was their time to "butcher," which was the term commonly used to describe this domestic operation.

Some poultry, mainly chickens and a few turkeys, were kept on all farms, but the use of fowls was almost universally confined to providing the meat when company came, for holiday feasts and occasional Sunday dinners. Turkeys for Thanksgiving, Christmas and perhaps a "party" or two in the winter were reserved for home uses and the rest recollections of them add much to the memories of that pleasant summer trip and in his journeyings through many parts of the United States since then the writer has so often compared at meals served at hotels and restaurants where the principal part of the food was ordinary or inferior cuts of beef or mutton with the tender juicy pieces of ducks, geese and chicken that were almost served in the European inns.

Why should not the people who are fortunate enough to dwell in the country live up to their opportunities in this respect? In all parts of our country, but especially in the east, the use of poultry as food is becoming more popular and general, yet, strangely enough, this is chiefly in the cities where the poultry is were sold or rather "traded in" at the general store of the country village in exchange for family supplies.

This practice of handling the poultry on the farm was so general that it was really a tradition in the community in which I was familiar and family which deviated from it would undoubtedly have been called "queer" by the neighbors.

In the evolution of customs which marked the progress of country life the next step in furnishing meats for the table was the sending out from the meat markets in the nearby towns wagons stocked with fresh meats. The approach of the wagon was heralded by horn or bell, which summoned the housewife, usually attended by all the children, dogs and cats of the household.

The doors in the tail end of the wagon were opened and at each stop all the pieces of meat which remain-bought at rather high prices and not on the farms where it is produced at a lower cost than any other meat than can be grown.

The branch of poultry raising that is now being conducted on the largest scale and in the most intensive way is the growing of young ducklings.

(An article next week will give facts in detail on the subject.)

DAIRY COWS DEMAND INTELLIGENT CARE

NEEDS OF EACH INDIVIDUAL ANIMAL MUST BE MET.

Are Very Responsive to the Treatment Accorded Them—Proper Care Means More Than the Mere Matter of Feeding—Physical Condition Is Matter of Importance.

(By R. C. Hulce, Dairy Husbandry, University of Illinois.)

The proper care of the dairy cow is a consideration which cannot be too fully appreciated by owners of dairy cattle and herdsmen. Cows used for milk production should be good individuals backed by proper breeding, yet whether or no these essential qualifications are to exert their influence in any marked degree depends on the care and attention which the animals receive. A chain of no stronger than its weakest link and in successful dairying one of the links is proper care and management of the individuals in the herd.

Care of the dairy cow consists to a large extent in making her as comfortable as possible at all times. Being of a nervous disposition, the cow is more responsive to the treatment she receives than are our other farm animals which are used for meat and motor purposes. One of the important things conducive to comfort is proper housing. There is a happy medium between too much exposure and too close confinement, the adjustment of which every manager of a dairy must work out. The cows' quarters to be comfortable should consist of a sanitary stall adapted to her size, to which plenty of sunlight and a liberal amount of fresh air is admitted. Four square feet of window space per cow and a circulation of 3,500 cubic feet of fresh air per hour are accepted standards. Access to a box stall previous to and continuing through calving time, makes it possible for an animal to assume a comfortable position when lying and allows freedom in getting up and down.

Proper care of the dairy cow includes feeding her well and milking it is advisable that the feeding and milking, as well as the other barn operations concerned with her care, be carried out at regular times, and, if possible, the same men should do the same given part of the work each day. Men differ greatly as to the manner in which they go about the care of an animal, so that until they become accustomed to those concerned with her welfare, she is at a loss to know what may happen next. The income from many herds can be increased, not by more expense, but by using the feed fed to the best advantage, giving an allowance to each cow according to her productive hand what she can make use of with a profitable return. An important consideration to be borne in mind is that the changing from one feed to another be brought about gradually to prevent undue taxation of her digestive system, which in turn lowers the milk flow. A full feed of corn to cows unaccustomed to it does not work out to the best advantage. Every one who has had experience with milk cows breaking into a corn field knows that the after effect is lowered rather than an increased milk production.

Provision should be made for the cow to have access to salt and good water. A protection from the sun in summer and feeds to supplement the pasture during the dry season are found in a well organized dairy. Results show that allowing cows to graze on land furnishing insufficient pasture not only reduces the milk flow for the rest of the lactation period, but also has a reducing effect on the production of the cow when she regains freshness. Discomfort which a dairy cow is caused to endure may therefore have not only present but future effect on the amount of milk that she will produce.

Assuming that the cow is kept as comfortable as seems reasonable, it is necessary to stimulate the flow of milk during the early part of the lactation period if a large yearly production is to be obtained. An effort to secure reasonably large milk flow at this time has a good influence on the entire period. If a good flow is to be established and maintained, it means that the cow should be in a good physical condition so that her stored flesh may be drawn on for production. To put her in a good physical condition before freshening, she should be dry at least six weeks, during which time she should receive an abundant supply of good feed. The submitting of dry cows to a starvation diet, as is sometimes done, is not an economical practice.

Last year the milk production of two heifers in the grade dairy herd at this station was 11,410 and 10,686 pounds at a feed cost of $90.07 and $78.88 respectively. In the first instance the milk at $1.60 a hundred was worth $182.56 and in the second $170.97, leaving an income above the cost of feed for the first heifer of $92.49 and for the second $92.09. These records are not phenomenal, though they are much above the ordinary, and in order to secure them the heifers were first capable of the production, and second, the production was made possible only as a result of good care and management.

INSURANCE REGULATION HAS DEVELOPED WITH YEARS

Desirable Changes Have Come With Passing Time—Business Regulation Is a Phase of Industrial Development.

(Prof. William F. Gophart, Washington university, St. Louis, Mo.—Extract of an address at the University of Illinois.)

The regulation of business is very largely a matter of the last fifty years in the United States, and its wide application a matter of the past twenty-five years. The phenomenal results of our industrial and commercial development during the past half century were achieved under a system of free competition with very little co-operation. The social injustices resulting in the nature of by-products from this industrial development have been so manifold and somewhat blinded in our vision as to the need of correcting certain evils. It was but natural for a people who believed that they had a government organized and administered by the people and responsible to the people, to call upon this government to correct every real or imagined evil. Notwithstanding our well marked individualism, the faith of the American people in enacted law is very great. We attribute to it a potency in national, state and local affairs which it does not have because it often has no response to the people themselves. We have proceeded to legislate upon this or that aspect of modern business conduct and assume that all will be well because it has been so legislated. It is not surprising, therefore, if our text advance in controlling business by legislation is a careful re-examination of the need of such laws and the actual results achieved by past legislation.

It is therefore proposed to examine the basis upon which the regulation as it has been applied to life and fire insurance.

The character of insurance itself the nature of the contract and the method of conducting the business makes insurance peculiarly a business which should be subject to state regulation. It is a business which must concern itself with large numbers of individuals. It demands an agreement between sellers and buyers of a valuable thing—protection or indemnity—in which the terms of the agreement are frequently misunderstood. It demands the association of individuals in order to secure a thing which no one could secure for himself. It is a co-operation among many in which a general interest is present, but in which also an individual or a group of individuals may seek to benefit at the expense of the many. The contracts which are made run for long periods of time and the settlements for which they provide cannot be enforced in most cases by the original party to the contract, but rest rather upon the good faith of the other party or upon the compulsion of a third party—the state.

Since the obligations of an insurance company are chiefly in the nature of a thing which no one could secure for himself, it is a co-operation among many in which a general interest is present, but in which also an individual or a group of individuals may seek to benefit at the expense of the many. The contracts which are made run for long periods of time and the settlements for which they provide cannot be enforced in most cases by the original party to the contract, but rest rather upon the good faith of the other party or upon the compulsion of a third party—the state.

There would seem to be no good reasons for the activity of the state in order that the principles of justice and equity may be preserved. The state should not only protect the weak against the unjust activity of the strong, but it should also prohibit large numbers of its citizens from doing an injury to themselves. In this last mentioned capacity, it should, for example, prohibit a group of individuals from organizing themselves into a body to do an assessment insurance business of the old type. The state is particularly interested in compelling the carrying out of contracts and since the insurance contract involves rights and benefits beyond the lifetime of one party to the contract, it finds an important sphere if action in the insurance business. It is also interested when a business has to do with so many persons, as does insurance, that some of these persons will at times attempt to practice fraud on the group, and this practice the state must seek to prohibit. Although insurance is a business in which many are necessarily interested, its very character precludes the many from having any direct part in the actual conduct of the business, and it is therefore incumbent upon the state to do what it can to protect the many against the possible carelessness, ignorance, or dishonesty of some officials of the companies.

EUROPEAN CULTURE MUSEUM ESTABLISHED

IT IS NOW AN ADJUNCT TO EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES OF U. OF I.

Purpose Is to Illustrate European Culture From the Beginning to the Present Time—Occupies Same Relation to Art and Literature that Laboratory Does to Chemistry.

(By N. E. Brooks, Assistant Professor of German and Curator of Museum of European Culture.)

The University of Illinois has recently established a museum of European culture. It was formally opened about a year ago by Dr. Kuno Francke, professor of German literature at Harvard university. As this is a somewhat new type of museum, it may be asked, what is a museum of European culture and what purposes does it serve in a university? It has long been accepted as a matter of course that the student of chemistry or physics should see the phenomena of his subject in the laboratory. We are, however, only beginning to appreciate how important it is for the student of history or literature or art to see the outward aspects of his subject in a museum. Students of history and the social sciences, of literature and language and art are all studying different phases of the development of that totality which we call culture or civilization, and it is primarily as an educational aid to these students that the University of Illinois has established this new museum.

A museum of European culture in its most comprehensive sense should illustrate fully the whole development of European culture in all its phases from the earliest times to the present day. This ideal of completeness is practically impossible of realization, but there is a large usefulness and perhaps a larger educational value in a museum that limits itself to the really significant manifestations of the more important phases and periods of culture. This is what this museum of European culture does in a modest measure at present and expects in time to do with increasing completeness.

The material in the museum is practically entirely in the form of reproductions; in fact it is evident that a museum that aims to confine itself to what is important and typical must rely chiefly on reproductions. Originals are, however, not excluded, as they are in the German museum of Harvard university.

Among the phases of culture illustrated in the museum at present are Romanesque, Gothic, and Renaissance sculpture, early schools of painting, the development of weapons and armor, miniature painting and paleography, early printing, and woodcuts, early ivory carving and metal work, especially in church art, navigation and the development of geographical knowledge, Runic inscriptions, medieval seals, facsimiles of various historical documents, etc. There is an interesting exhibit of types of peasant costumes from various European countries, shown by sixty accurately made costume dolls and four figures in full size. For prehistoric and early historic culture in western Europe there is a collection of about a hundred objects, mostly weapons and personal ornaments, reproduced by electrolytic processes from the rich collections of the Stuttgart museum. It is planned to secure models of certain typical theaters and other material for the study of the drama and a beginning has been made with a model of the Fortune theater of Shakespeare's time.

It is easy to see how such material can do much to strengthen and vitify instruction in various departments. It also tends to arouse the instructors themselves to a quickened appreciation of this means of more efficient teaching. A museum illustrating the culture of the different European countries is of particular importance for American education in view of the fact that our culture as well as our population comes from all the nationalities of Europe. It is needless to say that the culture of Germany, to which we owe so much, will be an important element in the development of the museum.

It is hoped that the Germans of the state of Illinois as well as the Scandinavians and other nationalities will come to feel an interest in the museum and perhaps through their organizations or as individuals help materially in its development.

HENRY CASE SEEMS CERTAIN TO BE TRIED AT THIS TERM

Both Prosecution and Defense Declare Themselves Ready for Trial—Jesse Henry Well Enough to Attend Court—Defense Plea Likely to be Insanity.

The general belief is now that the trial of John Henry, for murder, will be called in the circuit court Monday afternoon and that the hearing will be had at this term of court. There was a possibility that Jesse Henry, a brother of the accused, might not be able to attend court because of a broken ankle, but Mr. Henry, who has been at Our Savior's hospital since the accident, was able to drive downtown yesterday and says that there will be no need for a continuance of the case on his account.

Both Sides Ready For Trial.
So far as the state is concerned the illness of State's Attorney Tilton will not occasion a postponement as Acting State's Attorney Smith has been at work for some weeks with others assisting him in preparation for the trial. In fact he has notified the court that he is ready for trial and it therefore now seems that nothing is likely to cause a delay of the hearing until next term.

As mentioned yesterday E. E. Hargrove of Kansas City is here to assist his brother, W. N. Hargrove, and W. T. Wilson, with the defense. Mr. Hargrove has been for four years a practicing attorney in Kansas City and for sixteen years prior to that time practiced in Nebraska. While he has not specialized on criminal law, he has nevertheless had a part in a large number of murder cases.

Insanity Plea Perhaps.

It is impossible to state positively the line of defense which Henry's attorneys will pursue, as they are naturally very reticent when that subject is approached. There can be little doubt however, that a plea of insanity or temporary insanity will be made in defense of their client. The fact that Henry in the only statement made so far as the public knows, maintained that he has no recollection of the killing, and the added fact that Dr. F. P. Norbury is known to have made frequent visits to Henry at the county jail give color to the theory that insanity is to be the defense.

Attorneys for both defense and prosecution believe that there will not be a great deal of difficulty in securing a jury to try the case, although it is agreed that probably several days will be consumed in the examination of veniremen before twelve satisfactory to both sides have been secured.

Special bailiffs will no doubt be necessary for service at the court house during the trial as the attendance is expected to be the largest which any case in recent years has attracted.

DICK WALLACE MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM JAIL

MAN INDICTED FOR HORSE STEALING GAINS LIBERTY

Sheriff Believes Prisoner Picked Lock on Cell and Went Out When

Dick Wallace, indicted at the recent session of the Morgan County Grand Jury on charges of grand larceny and horse stealing, escaped from the county jail Friday night about 8:30 o'clock and at an early hour this morning was still at large. Sheriff Rogers has sent notice of the escape to police in surrounding towns and last night had a force of men watching all of the trains leaving the city.

Sheriff Rogers stated last night that it was his belief that Wallace picked the lock on the door of his cell, which was in the old part of the jail, in much the same manner in that Decker, who escaped some weeks ago, did. He said that Turnkey Fanning went upstairs and in coming down to get the prisoners in the other part of the jail a bucket of drinking water, left the hall door leading downstairs open. It is thought by the sheriff that Wallace hid behind the door when Turnkey Fanning visited the other prisoners and walked down the stairs and out the side door while the turnkey was gone for the water. Mr. Fanning took the water to the prisoners, but did not go into the part of the jail in which Wallace had been. He came on downstairs and it was about twenty minutes later that the other prisoners called the turnkey and told him of Wallace's escape.

Wallace was arrested in Centralia with Essie Marsh about four months ago on a charge of stealing Dr. Reid's horse and buggy. They were brought to this city and at a preliminary hearing were sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury, which recently indicted both on charges of horse stealing and grand larceny. The woman is still a prisoner at the county jail.

STANDARD TESTS SHOW GIRLS SMARTER THAN BOYS

Tests of Intellect, Age For Age, Favor the Physically Weaker Sex.

San Francisco, May 22.—Girls are smarter than boys, standardized tests of the relative intellects of the sexes, age for age favor the physically weaker sex. This is what Lewis M. Terman, associate professor of education at Stanford University told the San Francisco Teachers' Institute today. Prof. Terman explained that the difference was one rather of temperament and emotion than mind however. He also pointed out some other ancient theories when he said:

"Work that is the most rapid is the most accurate."
"The present school day is too long. Children seven or eight years old should not go to school more than an hour and a half a day. Grouch, grief, loss of sleep—all these things have a direct effect on intelligence."
"Practicing when one is in bad physical condition is worse than not practicing at all."

DESPONDENCY LEADS TO SUICIDE.
Chicago, May 22.—Despondent over his failure to obtain employment, Joseph P. Downey, a butler formerly employed by Governor Edward F. Dunne, in the executive mansion in Springfield, committed suicide today by taking poison. In spite of a letter of recommendation from the governor, Downey had been unable to obtain work, he said.

It takes more than a piece of chalk and a tape-line to produce originality in clothes.

That's why some makers find their styles such a hit-and-miss proposition. True style must be genuine throughout—not a mere echo of someone else's genius.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets open the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

REV. AND MRS. CLYDE DARSIE WERE GIVEN A WARM WELCOME

Met By Automobile Delegation, on Arrival in Mt. Sterling, Ky., and Entertained with Greatest of Hospitality.

Friends in the city have received word from the Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Darsie of Mt. Sterling, Ky., telling of the work of the Christian church in that city and mentioning the hospitality with which they were received by the members of the Mt. Sterling congregation. Met by a large company in automobiles, they were sped to the home of one of the brethren and entertained for ten days in true Kentuckian fashion. The Christian parsonage is a house of good size upon which a number of improvements have recently been completed. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Darsie are highly pleased with Mt. Sterling, located as it is in a valley of great scenic beauty at the foot of the Cumberland mountains.

On removing to their permanent residence the pastor and his wife were treated to a bountiful "rush" of things palatable and useful, with canned fruits and jellies, bags of sugar, country hams, etc., much in evidence. The church services have been exceedingly well attended and in the Bible class of Rev. Mr. Darsie there is an attendance of 125.

In a letter to one of the women of Central Christian church, Mrs. Darsie spoke of the disposition of the gifts of gold coin she and the family received the evening before they left Jacksonville. Rev. Mr. Darsie purchased a desk for his study, Mrs. Darsie a book-case and the children added their savings accounts which have been begun for their future education.

Try that Snelg suit you have seen at Knoles'. It's all right.
